Welcome to the Xplorer GLX™

With the addition of the Xplorer GLX your students will begin a new chapter in Hands-on, Minds-on science education.

We know you are anxious to start using your GLX, and the enclosed Quick Start Poster will get you up and running, even doing your first experiment. But before you start, just take a minute to read this page, it's the most important investment in your GLX.

Your GLX will get even better. Keep it updated!

Although your GLX is the most powerful and versatile handheld science computer, it's only going to get better and better. New firmware features and enhancements are currently in development.

Updating is easy:

- go to www.pasco.com/glx,
- click on the "Update" button and follow directions.
- Or, go to Chapter 5, "Firmware upgrade" in your Xplorer GLX manual.

Remember, GLX firmware updates are FREE, and with each update you get even more value from your GLX.

Help us help you. Keep updated.

To keep you fully advised about:

- FREE enhancements to your GLX
- New Sensors, and
- New curricular materials

please let us notify you by e-mail. We promise not to visit your mailbox more than once a month, only give you worthwhile information, not to give your e-mail address to anyone, and to take you off the list if you should desire.

To provide us with your e-mail, please use the registration card enclosed, or go to www.pasco.com/glx and register. Do it now, it will ensure you get the most from your GLX.

A growing list of Compatible Printers.

In case you didn't know, you can print Directly from your GLX to selected H. P. printers. Yes, just plug the printer into the USB port and print graphs, tables, notes, etc, and with even greater resolution than the GLX screen. Below is a list of compatible printers. As new printers are added, they will be listed on the GLX web page. Before you buy a new printer for your GLX, check the latest list at: www.pasco.com/glx.
